Report on “Online Seminar on IPR Issues in Suicide Prevention Technologies” organized on world suicide prevention day 2021

In observance of World Suicide Prevention Day on September 10, 2021, the Department of Psychology, PPN PG College hosted a crucial seminar to address the multifaceted aspects of suicide prevention. The esteemed panel comprised Dr. N. K. Saxena, Prominent Psychologist and former Principal, Dr. L. K. Singh, a senior psychologist and Dr. Rohan Kumar, a renowned psychiatrist.

The event commenced with opening remarks by program coordinator Dr. Abha Singh emphasizing the urgency and significance of discussing suicide prevention.

Dr. N. K. Saxena, drawing from years of experience, provided insights into the societal factors contributing to suicide. He discussed the role of social pressures, economic challenges, and the importance of community support in preventing suicide. His address underscored the need for a holistic approach that involves both individual and societal interventions.

Dr. L. K. Singh delved into the psychological aspects of suicide prevention. He discussed risk factors, warning signs, and the critical role mental health plays in this context. Dr. Singh emphasized the importance of early intervention, creating awareness about mental health, and reducing the stigma associated with seeking help. The session aimed to equip attendees with a deeper understanding of the psychological dimensions of suicide prevention.

Dr. Rohan Kumar, a distinguished psychiatrist, brought a clinical perspective to the discussion. He explored the role of mental health professionals in suicide prevention, discussing assessment tools, treatment modalities, and the importance of destigmatizing mental health care. Dr. Kumar's insights shed light on the collaborative efforts needed between mental health professionals and the broader community.

In conclusion, the seminar on World Suicide Prevention Day facilitated a comprehensive exploration of the subject. Dr. N. K. Saksena, Dr. L. K. Singh, and Dr. Rohan Kumar provided valuable insights from societal, psychological, and clinical perspectives. The event served as a reminder of the collective responsibility to raise awareness, reduce stigma, and actively contribute to suicide prevention efforts within our communities. The seminar is attended by over 40 students and many faculty members of the college.
